Funston for Chicago.

Major General Funston will be placed in charge of the central department a Thicago, according to present plans. Secretary Garrison said that Funston probably would be given leave of ab sence after his arrival at Galveston It will then be determined whether Funston should return to the Texas border temporarily to relieve Major General Eliss, who has been appointed assistant chief of staff, or whether Bliss should be relieved by General Bell, now in charge of the troops at Texas City, and Funston should be sent direct to Chicago as head of the central department.

The permanent disposition to be made of these officers, according to present plans, is to place Funston in charge at Chicago, Bell in charge of the Southern division, and bring Bliss to Washington. But temporary arrangements may be made while the Mexican situation along the border remains acute. No advices were received at the War Department from the Mexican border today, and no details of the evacuation of Vera Cruz were received other than General Funston's report that he would e ready to leave Vera Cruz at noon. No decision as to the distribution of the troops after they return to the United States has yet been reached Secretary of War Garrison said. They ill be quartered temporaril, at Texas ity, and the length of their stay there will be determined largely by events on the Mexican side of the border, Garrison said.

Situation Confusing.

Official advices regarding the Mexcan situation continue confusing. Reports from State Department agents indicate that fighting is in progress at several points and that Villa is still miles away from Mexico City. The capital is in control of Gen. Lucio Bianco and the official reports declare that the city is absolutely tranquil.

The Russians, are centering their attention near Cracow in an effort to surround that city and to drive a wedge between the German and Austrian forces. Should they do this they could force the Austrians back into Cracow and on the Little Carpathians and then roll up the German right wing and compel the Kaiser's forces to fall back to guard Breslau and Posen. The Germans are nearer Warsaw, but it is apparent that they have not met the full force of the Czar's army on the battle ground chosen by Grand Duke Nicholas.
